Creating pull request

The screenshot shows a web browser window displaying the GitHub interface for creating a pull request. The browser's address bar shows the URL: `https://github.com/xxsotoxx/bedu-web-app-project/compare/main...xxsotoxx-branches-update-sesion-05?quick_pull=1`. The repository name is `bedu-web-app-project` (Public). The page title is "Open a pull request". Below the title, a message states: "The change you just made was written to a new branch named `xxsotoxx-branches-update-sesion-05`. Create a pull request below to propose these changes."

The main form for creating the pull request is visible. It includes a "base" dropdown set to "main" and a "compare" dropdown set to "compare: xxsotoxx-branches-update-sesion-05". A green checkmark indicates "Able to merge. These branches can be automatically merged." Below this, there is a "Create README.md" section with a "Write" tab and a "Preview" tab. The "Write" tab is active, showing a text area for "Leave a comment" and a "Create pull request" button. To the right of the form, there are several settings sections: "Reviewers" (No reviews), "Assignees" (No one—assign yourself), "Labels" (None yet), "Projects" (None yet), "Milestone" (No milestone), and "Development" (Use `Closing` keywords in the description to automatically close issues). At the bottom, there is a summary bar showing "1 commit", "1 file changed", and "1 contributor".
